

R. Bharadwaj
Post Graduate Programme in Management (PGP) 2014-16
Gold Medal – II Rank Holder

R. Bharadwaj is a recipient of the OP Jindal Scholarship for management students and the T-Thomas Scholarship for Business Leaders. Featuring in the Director's Merit List, he was the section topper for two terms.

This scholar also found time to head the Publicity and PR Vertical at the Forum for Industrial Interaction, a student-run club and has been Secretary of the Literature Society. He was selected as part of the joint team of students from IIMB and the University of British Columbia - Sauder School of Business – in a case competition.

Bharadwaj has developed a multi-level planning tool to optimize production and dispatch of PU Foam at Kurlon Ltd. The project is under implementation by a team at the company's Dabbaspet plant. Currently, he is in the process of writing a case on this project.

He will soon start work with the Boston Consulting Group.

Honoured and humbled on receiving the gold medal, he says: "I have learnt much over the past two years and have met some of the smartest minds in the country here. The learning from the faculty and my peers extended far beyond the classroom."
